Robertson Aquatic Centre another step closer

The NSW Government Member for Goulburn, Ms Pru Goward recently announced that an Application for a Clubs Grant by the ROBERTSON AQUATIC CENTRE had been successful. This grant will be used to support funds raised by committees since 1982 to build and operate an Aquatic Centre in Robertson. Ms Goward announced the successful grant at a meeting of some of the past and present RADSPA members. The grant is to the value of $350,000. The RADSPA committee will meet shortly to evaluate the impact of the Grant and develop plans for costings including clearing, construction, equipment and fittings. Volunteer support has been the underlying saving in the Aquatic Centre's construction costings.

The Committee is now asking for interested persons to register and confirm their support as volunteers for the project. Contacts: John Thomas 48882250, Chris Stevenson 4885 2903.

Robertson's War Memorial gets a flag

Robertson Butcher, Mr Darryl Veivers, had long noticed that our local War Memorial, which commemorates the names of one hundred and sixty nine local veterans, was bereft of an Australian flag. When Local Member for Throsby, Mr Stephen Jones, came to town for one of his meet and greet sessions, Darryl took the opportunity to mention his concern.

The result of this meeting was a short and poignant ceremony on Friday, 23 January at which Mr Jones presented a gathering of

Robertson residents with a new flag to honour those who fought and died for their country. Mr Jones first asked "a couple of little tackers" (brothers Liam and Callum) to hold up the flag whilst he offered a brief explanation of its symbolism and history. He then presented the flag to Mr Veivers who was accompanied by some of Robertson's war veterans including Messrs Jack Skipper, Brian Stones and Greg Marks. This experienced team of Defence personnel hoisted the flag with pride and Captain Brian Stone closed the ceremony with a sombre and heartfelt salute.

ANZAC Day Services 2015

A Wreath Laying will be held at the Burrawang Memorial at 10:15am followed by a main Service at Robertson at 11:00am. This year is a special remembrance being 100 years since the Gallipoli landing.

Robertson Community Preschool News

A very proud Robertson Community Preschool moment. On February 25 they found out their results from the National Assessment and Ratings. We are extremely excited to report that our Robertson Community Preschool is EXCEEDING the National Quality Standards in ALL 7 quality areas. The report shows that only 23% of Australian preschools are achieving this level of excellence.

For a small country town they are up there amongst the best. Well done to a dedicated group of Early Childhood Educators; Cassy Bowman, Leann Noble and Tash Blenkinsopp.

Council secures bridge renewal funding for Robertson and Kangaloon

Robertson and Kangaloon are each set to receive new bridges following the announcement of successful grant funding from the Federal Government. A total of $571,000 has been allocated to the Wingecarribee Shire by the Deputy Prime Minister and Minister for Infrastructure and Regional Development, Warren Truss as part of the Australian Government's regional Bridges Renewal Programme.

The two projects to receive funding are:

- Replacing the existing timber bridge on Caalong Street in Robertson - $382,000
- Replacing the existing timber bridge on Kirkland Road in Kangaloon - $189,000

Council's Manager of Assets, Selva Selvaratnam, explained the significance of the grant.

"This funding will help us replace two of the Shire's most in-need rural bridges," he said.

"In both cases we'll be replacing an existing narrow timber bridge nearing the end of its serviceable life with a modern dual-lane concrete structure. "This will provide local residents, farmers and producers with better, safer and more reliable road access," Mr Selvaratnam said. Work is scheduled to start on the Caalong Street bridge in April 2015 followed by the Kirkland Bridge in the second half of the year.

MUSIC IN THE KEY OF SHORTIS

A unique take on the world of music led by one of Canberra's leading musicians

John Shortis is half of Canberra satirical duo Shortis and Simpson. His passion for music theory is palpable, so he can't understand why, to many, this gripping area of music is seen as something dull and boring. To him it's endlessly engrossing, a source of permanent fascination and discovery, a page-turner.

After a very well-attended series of courses in Canberra, he now brings his personal quirky take on the topic to the Southern Highlands, exploring its patterns and mysteries- chords, keys, time signatures, modes, harmony, melody, and music notation, explained like never before.

Over four sessions—Saturdays May 23/30, June 13/27 2-4pm at CTC@Robertson

The Migration of Denis Wilson

by Michael Breen

Loss. Denis Wilson recently left Robertson. He will be a loss. But what kind of loss? His presence is multi-faceted, his network large and varied. Some know him through his blog called “A Blog about the Nature of Robertson, NSW, Australia.” His readership goes well beyond Australia. Others know him from meeting him and chatting about all manner of things. His canvas is broad like his chuckle and his smile. He might object, but you could call him a polymath as well as being an autodidact.

Publisher. Dennis gathers and shares what he observes and what he discovers; an injured Wonga pigeon, the Illawarra raspy cricket, sawflies, conservation issues or his beloved native orchids. He is a prolific and respected publisher on his blog, on Facebook or in conversation. His masterly photography plus his words tell stories simply but not too simply. He is never banal. Denis respects the universe and helps others develop their understanding and respect.

History and Geography. Born in Victoria to a keen naturalist father, Denis went on trips to the You Yang hills and the Dandenongs as a youngster. Winifred Wardell, a distinguished Australian naturalist, recognized his talents for identifying and classifying natural objects. His skill and his excitement could have led him into an academic position but botany, as it was then taught, was his bogey road block. So he says he is an amateur botanist. “The real botanists don’t make it easy for the likes of me” he says humbly. But one could be convinced he is a qualified Botanist. Denis’ family moved to Canberra when he was nine. There, with his father Stephen Wilson who was an avid bird watcher, writer and secretary and founding member of the Canberra Ornithological Group, Denis was one of the foundation students of birds of the ACT. He admired his father’s interest in Cacti, but opted for growing peonies. He then left Canberra and ministerial correspondence work for Robertson. “It has good soil like the Dandenongs” he noted, to grow his peonies. But two life threatening bouts of cancer had him back in Canberra for six months at a time, diluting his interest in peony propagation.

Projects. Denis has played a significant role in saving the Kangaloon bore field. “They wanted to steal water from the Shoalhaven. Engineers are not trained to make environmental decisions” he points out. More recently he works as a respected member of local groups and others in NSW and Queensland advocating for water conservation against the interests of big foreign companies with no commitment to nature’s infrastructure. Just as the water is mostly unnoticed, so is much of the work for the good of future generations done by Denis and his colleagues.

Sometimes you hear people say, “There aren’t the characters around these days like they used to be”. Not so here. Denis is a Robertson fully featured character accompanied by his familiar, and canine companion, LuLu.

The Gap. He will be missed for his role as coffee house communication facilitator where he welcomed the few he does not know and where those whom he does know welcome him. His remarkable photos will surely continue but we will lose the easy chat about them on a daily basis. The Tuesday Trivia group will miss him even if he did once seriously stretch them with his famous Shoalhaven session.

Though only going to the South Coast and pledged to revisit Robertson there will be a noticeable gap in the landscape marked, “Denis was here”.

End of an Era - Peter Vaughan

By Pip Hammond

When I went to visit Peter Vaughan in his Burrawang Lane workshop last month it looked like “business as usual”, with the lounge chairs in the smoko corner occupied by friends and neighbours enjoying a cuppa and a yarn. After forty plus years of service as mechanic to the Robertson community, Peter Vaughan has hung up his wrenches—at least as a way of earning a living. As Pete says, he still like to ‘play’! Testament to this is the old 1952, single cylinder, 2 stroke Bulldog tractor which has been lovingly restored and sits in his workshop alongside other beasts of burden which he describes with great affection.

Our chat was delayed somewhat while Pete went off in his trusty Landrover to help a local neighbor who had inadvertently backed into a ditch at Pheasant Ground. Just a phone call away and it “Pete to the rescue” - as it is in a community where neighbours tend to rely on each other for support.

A local farm boy, born and bred, with a passion for diesel engines, Pete left school as soon as he could to do what he loved. After a five year apprenticeship with Murray’s Tractors he began his working life as a driver and mechanic for Fred White Transport, a local haulage company. In 1968 Pete built the shed in Burrawang Lane to store trucks and hay for Fred White. In the early seventies he started his repair workshop in the shed, and the rest, as they say, is history! It’s been an interesting history. Pete has a wealth of local knowledge and tells stories about building props for the movie ‘Babe’. There was also the eerie job of fixing flooded machinery stuck inside the huge pipes constructed to carry water from the Wingecarribee Dam to the Wildes Meadow Power Station

Pete’s ingenuity, skills and knowledge as Robbo’s local mechanic will be much missed. As I thank Pete for his time, he reflects “The people have been very good - the town’s really supported me. I’d like to thank them for supporting the business”. Thank you Pete for supporting us!

Let's Look at Locals

With Jill Taylor

Hope Waters shares Hope

Hope was born in a hospital in Bowral 74 years ago, but was raised in a home down Jamberoo Mountain Road, Robertson. Some of the local family history goes back to Great, Great Grandparents. Her husband, Nat (Nathan) was born in Goulburn, raised in the NSW Western District, then in Wildes Meadow. Nat's work was for many years based around potatoes, then truck driving, and then a backhoe business, which he still operates today.

One day Nat saw that the Robertson General Store and Newsagency was on the market and thought "why not?" and they did. Her cousin, Bill Pointing, helped run the business until he got too busy with the bus company. Hope's Mother and Father, Edie and Gordon Missingham were god-sends with everyone pitching in to help where and when they could. Running the business 12 hours a day was a lot of hard work, and being a busy mother too. "It's been good" Hope said. "So many interesting people, so many coming and going. Fascinating! All your locals, keeping up with family, and learning all about wonderful things from others". "Things have got to change eventually, the business is on the market".

Hope and Nat have 3 children, 2 girls and 1 boy, and now have 10 grandchildren, 2 great grandchildren with 2 more on the way. Her knitting is always close to hand to give the family additional warmth. Most of the family live in the district and the younger family continue to be very supportive as their grandparents and great grandparents were. A Social Conscience, what a great legacy. With ancestors coming from the depressed English (Lancashire) times there were great opportunities to get involved and make a difference to their lives and their community here in Robertson.

Involved Hope Waters was and is. The Progress Association was an early Primary School memory – planting the first 6 cherry trees on the main road; involved with St Johns Church, teaching Sunday School for many years; and helping out for many years also at the Pre-school. No money changed hands, it was a community love. Another involvement which spanned 30 years was as a leader of the Girl Guides. She is a member of the Country Women's Association and a very active Committee member of the School of Arts.

After the Earthquake struck Robertson in 1962 Hope remembers standing outside the very damaged

School of Arts, with 2 wooden doors falling in, walls cracked and no-one wanting to take it on the restoration, only wanting to bulldoze. Her life-long friend, Edna Casey and Hope formed the School of Arts 2nd Committee and the rest is history. The building still remains. Hope has a great deal of time and admiration for the Robertson Environment Protection Society and the wonderful work done by David and Helen Tranter – because of them and others support Robertson is blessed with the beautiful Waratahs.

Holidays were great family times together. Some of the locations have been Canada, the Islands, Tasmania and up the Red Centre and to New Zealand to visit some of Nat's family in the South Island. With the Girl Guides and the Tidy Town Committees Hope had the opportunity to go to other districts, Grafton, Wagga, Orange, Kurri Kurri for presentations and to accept prizes. She most definitely has not been stuck, always moving and enjoying life and all the possibilities that come along. Her grandchildren have helped her learn the computer world and the people of Robertson and district, those passed on and through, those present and those coming in, are meaningful to Hope as she is to them. I personally remember Hope's warmth when I would call in at Robertson General Store and Newsagents quite irregularly as a city soul and knew then as I do now that the spirit of Hope and others in the community is what matters.

"My life is but a weaving, between my God and me. I do not choose the colours. He worketh steadily. Ofttimes He weaveth sorrow, and I in foolish pride, Forget He sees the upper, and I the underside. Not till the loom is silent and the shuttles cease to fly. Will God unroll the canvas and explain the reason why. The dark threads are as needful in the skilful Weaver's hand. As the threads of gold and silver in the pattern He has planned".

As Hope says "The best is yet to come".

DIRK BOGARDE

Revisited

Tony Williams discusses the work of Dirk Bogarde and screens excerpts from the documentary The Private Dirk Bogard. His heart-throb appearance in British films in the '40s and '50s coined the title 'Matinee Idol'. But it was Bogarde's later films in the '60s with European directors, that saw a deeper edge to his work. We look at samples of his European work, and the entire film Death in Venice, directed by Luchino Visconti and arguably Bogarde's finest film.

Talk/excerpts approx. 30 mins, short interval, Death in Venice 130 mins. Adults only.
