Helping the environment is in the bag!

by Naomi Janzen

Ever find yourself standing at the cash register, watching your purchases get rung up, feeling guilty because you've left your environmentally-friendly reusable shopping bags in the boot (or back home), yet again?

A group of volunteers called the Robertson Village Bag Ladies have been hard at work on a solution that will make that experience a thing of the past for those that want it to be.

Robertson Bag Swap will soon provide cloth bags to all the shops in Robertson so that every time you shop you can choose to have your goods popped into them instead of plastic - free of charge! To return the bag and get it back into circulation, simply drop off the empty bag at any shop - including the Post Office - next time you're in the village. Of course, if remembering to bring a bag shopping isn't the challenge for you that it is for me, the group welcomes you to keep any bags you can reuse. Bags in circulation that need repairing can be simply returned at any time.

The bags are made from donated fabric scraps and come in a variety of shapes and sizes - all sporting the same beautiful hand-printed logo. Christine Shipp came up with the idea when she read about the Boomerang Bags initiative online.

A Robbo Men's Shed?

By Nigel Walker

Let's get together and develop a Men's Shed in Robertson! It would be a great resource, a place to meet mates, show other blokes your skills and learn new ones. You could help raise money for good causes, use workshop materials and tools to make things, help recycle materials and repair things.

So put your thinking cap on! The Robbo Men's Shed will need land or a building to meet its needs. It should be close to or in town with access and parking, it would need power, water and sewerage and of course people to develop and manage the facility.

What is a Men's Shed?*

Men's sheds are a community-based, non-commercial organisation that address social inclusion, participation and community building for men. The modern Men's Shed is an updated version of the old shed in the backyard that has long been a part of Australian culture.

If you visit a Men's Shed you may see a number of men restoring furniture or bicycles for a local school, younger people working with the older men learning new skills, tea-bags, coffee cups and a comfortable area where men can sit and talk. You might see an area where men can learn to cook healthy low cost meals or see crafts such as woodturning or metalwork or machinery being repaired.

Members of Men's Sheds come from all walks of life - what unites them is that they are men with time on their hands who would like to do something useful. Men's Sheds have a safe and happy environment where men are welcome to work on a project of their choice in their own time in a spirit of mateship.

Also, becoming a member of a Men's Shed gives a man a safe and friendly environment where he can find many things to do in an atmosphere of old-fashioned mateship. And, importantly, there is no pressure. Men can just come and have a yarn and a cuppa if that is all they are looking for. So why not come along to the Robertson CTC in the main street on Saturday the 22nd of April any time between 10AM and 1PM and help get the ROBBO MEN'S SHED up and running.

For further information call Nigel Walker on 0467316070 or (02) 4885 1815

Life's Experiences

By Graham Thomas

Call me inexperienced, or just lacking life experience, but this year at the Robbo Show for the first time in my entire life I watched a smash up derby. Yes, yes, I know, sheltered life etc etc, but I loved it! It was fantastic! These guys are amazing, talented and gutsy. I have enough trouble reversing in a straight line, let alone aiming and hitting something.

Admittedly, it is chaotic, or at least looks that way from an outsider's perspective. But the experience reminded me of what life is like for many people: chaotic. Whether it's family that makes it so, or broken relationships or sickness, life can be a bit of a mess. But the good news is that Jesus Christ, God's only Son, offers us and invites us to have rest from this chaos. He doesn't promise he'll fix everything in this life, but he does promise comfort, forgiveness and peace. Here's what Jesus says in Matthew 11:28-30.

²⁸ "Come to me, all you who are weary and burdened, and I will give you rest. ²⁹ Take my yoke upon you and learn from me, for I am gentle and humble in heart, and you will find rest for your souls. ³⁰ For my yoke is easy and my burden is light."

Perhaps you'd like to investigate Jesus more? I'd certainly love to talk with you, or you can just come along to any of our church services or events at the church. Easter is also approaching, which gives us a special opportunity to think about Jesus' sacrifice for us, his resurrection and what that all means.

We'll have three services over the Easter weekend:

Good Friday April 14th @9am - traditional Easter Sunday April 16th @10am – family celebration with kids in the service
Easter Sunday April 16th at St David's
Burrawang @4.30pm

I hope to see you there. Graham Thomas, Minister,

Literacy & Numeracy Programs achieving great results at Robertson Public School

Supporting individual students to achieve literacy and numeracy goals focused on helping students to "close gaps" in their learning has, at Robertson Public School in 2016, seen the implementation of two very successful programs implemented by a committed and dedicated team of volunteers.

Research shows that the most effective programs for reading instruction incorporate three key elements: phonics, sight word recognition and supported reading. The Learning Support Team at Robertson Public School drew on a range of strategies from evidence based practices to put together the learning program for Literacy and then trained tutors to deliver this program to students.

The Numeracy program utilises identified key skills and understandings students need in Years 3 and 4 to ensure they consolidate place value concepts, non-count-by-one strategies for addition and subtraction, and strategies for developing the fundamentals in multiplication and division.

The Literacy program involves an intensive 20 minute session three times per week where students are supported in achieving increased sight word recognition, increased accuracy when reading, improved reading fluency and comprehension.

The Numeracy program involves an intensive 20 minute session three times per week where students are supported in achieving efficient strategies for addition and subtraction, place value skills and concepts and strategies for consolidating multiplication and division.

A Learning Support teacher oversees the implementation and supports tutors in their role, communicates progress to parents and staff, and ensures weekly resourcing.

The program has had so much success that the school hopes to provide an on-going program in 2017. The school welcomes any community members who would like to become a volunteer tutor. If interested, please contact the principal, Susan Matthews at Robertson Public School on 48851284.

Robertson's Loss – the Water Tree

By Janet Waterlow

For generations, I believe, the village children have climbed a tall pine tree which leant over the water at the creek at my home. They had installed a rope from which they swung and dangled before hurling themselves into the water. Their joyous screams, followed by almighty splashes echoed across the neighbourhood, sometimes accompanied by the F word!

Its slightly hazardous of course, and has given me some anxiety for the kids' safety. However, since they usually arrive in groups, (the Robertson Swimming Club I call them), wearing swimming togs and with towels neatly rolled up under their arms, and with even the occasional surf board, I am sure that their parents know what they are up to.

They are asked to keep the noise and the litter down, and by and large they do their best, but its difficult to be quiet when having so much fun.

One day a large heavy table appeared upturned in the middle of the creek. Goodness only knows how they got it there! I asked some of the older boys to remove it, which they kindly did, with some difficulty. So that was good. Looking out of my window a couple of days later, there was a large heavy table upturned in the middle of the creek again. I asked the next lot of swimmers (who were somewhat smaller boys) if they would mind removing it. Watching their brave attempts to heave this monster out of the water was quite heart-rending, necessitating me driving around the village (as I could not reach them without a boat) to give them a hand. The boys were courteous if slightly defensive as they knew they were trespassing. Together we managed to get the monster out of the creek again, and thankfully, although it is still in the vicinity, it remains in dry dock.

Just lately, "The Swimming Club" had taken to climbing higher into the tree, and doing what I believe is called "bombing" into the water. This has had me very worried as I felt it was too dangerous and I asked them not to do it. I have been wondering how I could "police" this behaviour when providence came to the rescue. We had two days of torrential rain, and when I looked next out of my window, the childrens' fun tree had been uprooted and had fallen across the creek. I awaited the next arrival of the Robertson Swimming Club with more than a little interest.

There was an awed silence when they came next for a Tarzan adventure. They quietly studied the tree, marveled at the size of it roots now ungainly mid air, and attempted walking its trunk like a tightrope across Niagra. All was very quiet. A little later I noticed something else, the children had planted a cross for the tree, and today I noticed it is surrounded with flowers.

I am sorry kids, that you have lost your tree, I know I nagged you about the noise and language but I was always actually pleased to see you enjoying yourselves. Soon hopefully the Robertson Swimming Pool will be ready for you. I hope you have just as much fun there, and that you take care of yourselves and keep safe.

Best Wishes from the Grannie who lives by the creek.

PS: as I am sure "The Swimming Club" will return, I would like to take this opportunity to make sure that the childrens' parents are aware of their swimming activities. If you want to know more, please ring me on 0412 119 030

Sonja Fernando & Christine Shipp—"Bag Ladies"

Interested newcomers are welcome to the group's sewing workshop every Tuesday 9:30am-2pm in Sonja Fernando's Maker's Shed beside the big potato to drop by and enjoy a coffee and a sense of community.

"The only rule is you have to be working on the bags," Christine adds, laughing. For those that work during the week, you're invited to make bags at home and drop them off at 56 Caalong Street - the house with The Mower Man sign out front. Fabric donations can be left at the front door, too.

So far, the group has made over a hundred bags out of the thousand they estimate they will need to ensure everyone in Robertson who wants to eschew plastic has that option if they wish, every time they shop.

To find out more, drop by the Maker's Shed between 9:30am and 2pm any Tuesday or check out the Robertson Village Bag Swap facebook page and get ready to join the "No More Plastic Bags Revolution"!

Robertson CTC News

by Karen Mewes CTC@Robertson Manager

Unfortunately we have seen more people being targets of scams recently. An "Alert" message appears sometimes accompanied by an alarm sound. The message states there is some problem with your computer and gives a toll free number to call. Usually they say they are from Microsoft but we have also come across some claiming to be from well known antivirus companies. They are all scams, do not call the number. Turn off the computer and seek advice from your computer technician or come into the CTC, we may be able to assist or we can put you in touch with a reliable computer technician.

The CTC is running 3 more funded courses, 2 of which specifically look at security and privacy issues. First an overview of some of the problems and what you can do to prevent them, it does involve more than just having an antivirus program. The second looks at Facebook, this is a great way to keep in touch with your family, friends and local community as well as support groups. We will look at how to keep control of who can see your information. The third workshop is an introduction to iPads and tablets, we have some for you to look at and discuss differences, accounts and downloading apps. These classes have been funded by Community Underwriting so we can offer them for just the cost of a gold coin. Please call to book, 4885 2665.

The CTC is a not for profit organisation, we are responsible for the building and have to pay all the usual bills, we have a small dedicated team of volunteers and try to keep costs to the barest minimum. Computer training is conducted by a qualified and experienced trainer. Volunteers run our café, cinema program and art exhibitions and can assist with use of our computers, photocopier, laminator and binder. We are always open to new suggestions so if you would like to join us or start a new group or program please contact us.

Normal opening hours:

Thursday & Friday 10am — 4pm,

iPads and Tablets, introductory workshop	Friday 12 May 10.30am—12pm	For beginners or those thinking of getting an iPad or tablet, we will look at the differences and what can use them for plus have a few on hand for your to try.

Please call into the CTC for details on our normal pay as you go classes and one on one lessons or pick up a flyer from the boxes outside.

We will be restarting with beginners and working up to more advanced Word, Excel, PowerPoint and Publisher skills plus classes on Password Management, using the Cloud, Scanning and Photos.

Yoga for Pain Relief

By Jennifer Robinson
Life Consultant Yoga and Meditation Teacher.

There are many reasons why people come to my Yoga classes. One of the main reasons is often for pain relief. Whether it be back pain, joint pain, muscle pain, emotional pain, mental pain or life pain, I have seen many types of struggles in my 20 years of teaching. I have also witnessed that Yoga can support the alleviation or lessen the impact of all these types of pain.

Pain can be debilitating, draining and depressing. I am not going to say that Yoga can heal all your issues. After 20 years of observation I can say though that a consistent and courageous Yoga practice will help you manage your pain situation with a new found or refreshed empowered freedom. This has been my experience and one of my sources of inspiration to return to teaching Yoga again last year after a motherhood break. Whether you do a simple "5 minutes a day" or a weekly class you will have a result of improved energy and balance within yourself.

The asanas (postures) are ancient healing tools, tried and proven to support the human body and being to become: healthier, stronger, youthful, more supple, balanced and aligned. For those of you struggling with emotional, mental or life pain, the

What sight so lured him thro' the fields he knew
As where earth's green stole into heaven's own hue,
Far--far--away?

What sound was dearest in his native dells?
The mellow lin-lan-lone of evening bells
Far--far--away.

What vague world-whisper, mystic pain or joy,
Thro' those three words would haunt him when a boy,
Far--far--away?

A whisper from his dawn of life? a breath
From some fair dawn beyond the doors of death
Far--far--away?

Far, far, how far? from o'er the gates of birth,
The faint horizons, all the bounds of earth,
Far--far--away?

What charm in words, a charm no words could give?
O dying words, can Music make you live
Far--far--away?

Cheryl Ricketts started many local musical journeys

Last month the school community celebrated the enormous contribution to music at Robertson Public School made by the late Cheryl Ricketts our larger than life, gregarious, loveable, mischievous and talented music coordinator, teacher, colleague and friend who sadly passed away last year.

The assembly included choir and band performances from past and present music students and the unveiling of new signage for the Music Room in honour of Cheryl Ricketts.

Andrew Ford has dedicated a new piece to the memory of Cheryl Ricketts. Commissioned by the National Carillon in Canberra, Lin-lan-lone will have its first performance by senior carillonist Lyn Fuller during the Canberra International Music Festival on Friday 5 May, with more performances on 6th and 7th.

Andrew said: 'Cheryl started so many local people on their musical journeys, that I thought it would be nice to have a piece with her name on it ringing out from time to time across Lake Burley-Griffin. The title comes from "Far-far-away", a late poem by Tennyson, with its reference to the "mellow lin-lan-lone of evening bells", and I imagined what it would be like to hear the piece from the far side of the lake.'

Lin-lan-lone won't only be heard in Canberra. It will also be played by Siang Ching Ngu on the Sydney University Carillon on 28 May, and in July it will be heard at the World Carillon Congress in Barcelona.

Community Information Centre Update By Don Dyer

The architect (Peter Campbell) is busy finalising the design and working with Council in order to get final approval. On another front Committee members have compiled research on information to go on each of the boards. These include Robertson history, the environment, tourist attractions and so on. In addition Ken Redpath and Allan Stiles have provided photographs for use as required. Peter Campbell will take all of the aforementioned and turn it into pictorial and written representations for the Committees ok and thence to manufacture.

Community support for the project continues. The Robertson garden Club has donated $500 and Elizabeth Bennetts is helping with plant selection. Jan Giblin is assisting with directional signage and Ross Brumfield is going to assist with earth moving.

The project has also received another generous donation from a local business—Matthew Fitzgerald, Southern Rise Bakery has recently committed $1000.

Every club, social organisation and sporting group has been written to, in order to advise members of progress. Each has been asked for ideas on how the CIC can be used by them. There is also an invitation to help with the project! More updates in June Newsletter. Ph:4885 1093 dbdyer@bigpond.com

Local Gorilla Girl Wins Youth Citizen Award

On Australia Day, Zoe Brain from Wildes Meadow, was awarded the Wingecaribee Shire Council's Youth Citizen of the Year for 2017. Zoe who is 13 years old, has demonstrated strong leadership skills and selflessness over the last several years, by giving many hundreds of hours to the community, from fundraising with Burrawang's Primary School and Australia's Biggest Morning Tea, to creating an Australian first, the 'Gorilla Girlz'. A team of young, passionate and motivated students nationally, who are raising money to save critically endangered gorillas.

To date, the Gorilla Girlz have introduced mobile phone recycling programs into 18 local, NSW, Queensland and Victorian schools and local businesses. She was voted one of 2016's top stories on the ABC's 'Behind the News' TV program. Zoe runs a two-hour weekly radio program on 92.5 Youth FM, regularly inviting guests, to raise environmental awareness, as well
