Vale Doug Pritchard

1 Dec 1944—4 Nov 2023

It was with great sadness that the news was received that Doug Pritchard had passed away in early November.

Doug Pritchard was an exceptional man. He cared so deeply for his community that he was seen as a staple of Robertson in the end. When asked to summarise a person's life in just a few paragraphs, you are faced with the monumental task of trying to quantify the entire story of a man who was profoundly different from most.

Doug Pritchard had lived a life few could have imagined. Thrilling journeys to exotic locations to do high finance in some of the most beautiful cities in the world. Helicopter rides over the Hunter Valley to have lunch by a mountain side. Working tirelessly for every client that stepped through his elevator on the tower that was 222 Clarence street, Sydney. He used to boast about his famous clients all the time. He was such a proud man. He was always trying to get the best for people. His greatest success, he would say, would be getting the most back for each of his clients. These clients would more often than not become life long friends.

Doug was born on 1 December 1944 in Melbourne to Morris Pritchard and Pamela Dedman. He grew up with his older brother William or Bill as he was known. Doug attended Camberwell Grammar for Boys in Melbourne's east. He was a very creative student and loved the arts and music. He was a talented sketch artist using mostly graphite pencils. Doug was very musical and sang in his school choir. He also played the drums. He joined the local choir and also sang with the University of Sydney Graduate Choir, which was a very proud accomplishment for him.

Doug Pritchard really carved out a great amount of success for himself and others when he eventually took up office in Sydney city. Commanding a space in 222 Clarence street, Sydney city, CBD. This was where Doug would hone his accounting and financial practice skills to a fine point. He retired shortly before his 70th birthday.

When Doug moved to Robertson, his life changed quickly. He found himself within this community in Robertson and wanted to give everything he could to this little town. Robertson soon became his sanctuary. His garden flourished, his financial practice business was soon taking off and his daughter Camilla moved soon afterwards to be closer to her father. Doug opened up "office" in Moonacres and became a happy fixture of Robertson, with many clients just showing up to his house with a bottle in hand and a question. Doug was always happy to oblige.

Doug was the treasurer of the CTC for many years, enjoying the thrilling highs and lows of the position. He would often quip fondly about the good work he was doing and how he felt he was really making a difference for people. He helped launch several successful family businesses in town who would become his best clients and friends.

In 2020 his daughter Camilla finally convinced him to get the very best care that money could buy. So, it wasn't long before he had comfortably settled in to his new residence at the Abbey, in Mittagong. It was here he said he was "so happy he could fly". In the month of October, Doug was diagnosed with an incurable autoimmune disease. He was told he only had days to live and yet he held on for 6 weeks. His strength and resilience was second to none. He died in the arms of his daughter, Camilla, as she had taken up a bedside vigil and promised that he would not "die alone". This promise she fulfilled as he passed away at 2:30pm on November the 4th. He was peaceful and content, he died with no regrets.

He never forgot his time in Robertson, still a very loved member of the community. He was buried in Robertson cemetery on the 15th of November, 2023. It is here he rests in peaceful bliss as he is now enjoying his "eternal resting place" with a view "to die for".

Robertson Futures Group Sets Priorities

By Karen Wilmott, President, Robertson Futures Group Inc

Our AGM was held 14th November 2023 and the following officer bearers were elected:

President: Karen Wilmott; Vice President: Andrew Pickering; Secretary: Mark Turner; Treasurer: Susan McGregor with Committee members: Susan Everdell, Jill Pickering and Neville Fredericks.

Discussion following the election centred on how our group can achieve its object of considering how Robertson can improve its sustainability as a vital village using the 8 Domains of Liveability in an Age-Friendly Community set out by the World Health Organisation as a guide. (<https://extranet.who.int/agefriendlyworld/age-friendly-cities-framework/>) In spite of many discussions amongst locals both formally and informally, and sometimes with Council involvement, it would seem that the town is still falling short of the ideal mix for healthy sustainability and is looking rather unloved in some of its public spaces.

What can we do ourselves to improve the liveability of the town? Waiting for Council to invest in renovation and capital improvements as outlined in the Robertson Place Plan may not be the only solution. Perhaps there are actions both large and small that we could take on ourselves to build pride in Robertson and enhance its liveability.

With this in mind we made a list – not exhaustive – of amenities that would benefit from some attention. Some need community agitation, others need a group to take them on as a project. You will have further ideas to add no doubt and we would love to hear them!

*Redwood Forest *Basketball court *Skate park * Pinkwood Park *Recycling facilities *Composting station *Electric Charging points *Battery Storage *Meryla St pedestrian access *children’s playground * Hampden Park Nature area

Robertson Futures has vowed to take on the push to achieve safe passage for pedestrians using Meryla St, by the formation of footpaths from Hoddle St to South St and a lit barrier for safe crossing of the railway line. What can you or your group take on?

Robertson Futures Group is a kind of “think tank” and welcomes new members to add their views and suggestions to the mix. Next meeting will be 16th January 2024 to discuss an exciting event in Robertson next year, honouring another of our objects, which is to share knowledge of best practice across all areas of sustainable village living.

A Redwood Forest in Robertson? Who Knew?

By Mark Turner

Council Administrator Viv May (on right) inspected the forest on a recent visit to Robertson. Photo: Peter Glass

As we all know, Robertson is the custodian of critically endangered Yarra rainforest, but you might be surprised to know that Robertson also has another gem – a rare forest of Redwoods (Sequoia sempervirens). The history of this forest has faded over the years but fortunately was recorded by the late Denis Wilson in one of his prolific blogs from which some of the information below is derived.

Between the eastern end of South Road opposite the Robertson Nature reserve is five acres of Crown land extending north to the railway line. This area was first established with radiata pines by the Robertson Primary School Forest Trust in 1987 and was known as the Robertson Bicentenary Forest. The trees were harvested and provided $25,000 for the school.

Robertson resident, Laurence Langley, was the honorary secretary of the Trust and a dedicated environmentalist. He researched the possibility of establishing a grove of Californian redwoods on the site, an idea suggested by the late Jocelyn Squire.

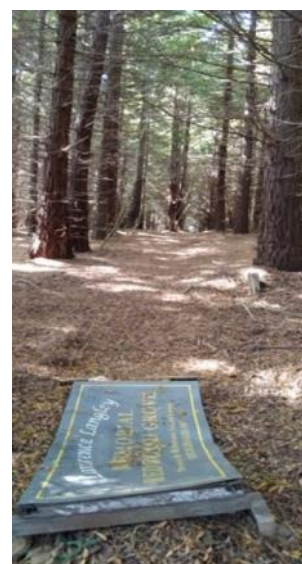

He knew that the climate with high rainfall and rich, acid red soil would be ideal and he imported seed from New Zealand, where the trees had previously been successfully established, and raised them for planting.

Laurence died in 2007 but the forest slowly grew largely unnoticed and became infested with weeds along South Street. In 2008 REPS held a working bee to remove the numerous Privet and Scottish Broom bushes and erected a new sign acknowledging the area as the Laurence Langley Memorial Redwood Grove.

Over the years the weeds returned and the deteriorated sign was found on the ground. The Council has undertaken some remedial work and some in the community together with the Council and REPS are getting together with a view to ensuring the forest remains vibrant. These giants can grow to 115 metres tall and can store up to three times as much carbon as other type of forest and so far have only reached half of their potential size.

Take a walk through the grove, experience the silence and be awed by their presence.

This forest, rare in NSW, adds to the importance of Robertson as a reservoir of exceptional and valuable forests.

Follow The Star

By Dan Bidwell
Senior Minister, Robertson Anglican Church

I've always loved Christmas. The anticipation, the ritual of putting up the Christmas tree, the family traditions, and of course the gifts!

But there is one more element to my Christmas memories. Even though I didn't grow up in a religious family, alongside all the Christmas traditions was the story of the little baby in the manger, the miraculous birth story, the angels and the wise men who followed the star to find Jesus.

For 2000 years people have been finding

Table Tennis for Life – Robertson Community Fun and Fitness

If you happen to be passing the Robertson Bowling Club on a Monday afternoon and hear the sound of laughter mixed with the sound of pinging and ponging, you will know you are in the new orb of the Robertson Table Tennis Association. Or for short the 'RTTA'.

The Robbo table tennis group was originally started in 2012 by St Johns Anglican Church members - Jane Wilson and Joan Freere - with the objective of providing a weekly community opportunity to have fun, gain a little fitness and in doing so, combat loneliness, find unexpected friendships and support of all kinds. Marion Harvey took the helm when Jane and Joan retired from game time. Every week Noel Rothwell and Ian Field set up and put away the rickety old tables. Over the years, Monday's sessions were always followed by a coffee and a cake here in the village.

Like anything special and long lived, the group morphed over time and this year we outgrew the generously provided old St Johns Sunday School Hall.

With 20 or so member players the group incorporated early in 2023 and became a member of Table Tennis NSW and through this association, the RTTA has insurance.

So, how lucky are we?

True to its form of active support of the community, the Robertson Bowling Club has made available its large dance floor every Monday afternoon. Along with the valued assistance and direction of the Bowlo's Damien and Bec, the space is cleared to set up the table tennis tables and everyone helps to restore the area after a couple of hours. After play we look forward to refreshments and there is a selection of cakes which Damien organises from the Robertson Bakery for us.

Importantly, and to the great joy and relief of all our players, since 2021 the amazing Robertson Burrow has approved three grant applications. The gift of these community driven grants has enabled the club to acquire three quality table tennis tables which were otherwise completely out of the group's financial reach. (Thank you Robertson Burrow.)

As far as exercise goes, table tennis is holistic. It's a low impact sport and relatively low risk. It provides mental, physical and social benefits, including:

- Increased general strength, fitness and toning
- Improved balance, reflexes and coordination
- Increased core strength.

Additionally, it strengthens and sharpens your brain; and burns lots of energy – so no guilt, you can have that piece of cake after play!

Table tennis is a sport for all ages. And, like riding a bike – you never forget how to play.

Best of all it's fun, fun, fun! So come and join us and in between games have a social chat in the comfortable and friendly environment of the Robertson Bowling Club.

So there you have it . . . Robertson Table Tennis is a community created and driven opportunity, and with more space to play and good gear, we feel Robertson Table Tennis has come of age. We invite you to come and give it a go! Bats available and your first session free, so come for a test play or simply come and watch.

Memberships are annual and usually paid in January each year, but if you join before the end of this year, your joining and annual fees will be applied through to the end of 2024.

For more information, email the RTTA at: robotabletennis@outlook.com

Exhibitions at The SHAC in Robertson

The SHAC Gallery is back in Robertson with two new exhibitions - Collector's Choice featuring Phillip Russell and Animal, Vegetable, Mineral by Stephanie Tetu and Penny Simons.

Phillip Russell is a Southern Highlands-based artist who is best known for his landscape paintings of Australia's natural bushland.

Painter Stephanie Tetu & sculptor

Penny Simons are both immigrants & former residents of the Southern Highlands. For this exhibition: Animal, Vegetable, Mineral, they have taken an intimate look at the peculiarities of their chosen land - a little strange, whimsical, wonderful, and poignantly beautiful. The exhibition continues to 17 December at 91 Hoddle Street. Open 10-4 Thur-Sun. Find out more at www.theshac.com.au/

Christmas Shopping at the CTC

There is a great opportunity to pick up some special gifts at the CTC. Artist's books, cards and eco-prints by Doreen Lyon, timber boxes by Ben Lyon, paintings and native cherry spoons by Ingrida Spole, paintings and pottery by Pam Berrell, small quirky timber birds by Linda Burgess, vintage button jewellery by Catherine Hutton, and handmade cards by Cathy Lawson. There is something to suit every budget! Also for sale are tabletop Christmas trees made by the Women's Shed. The CTC is open Thur-Sat right up until Saturday 23 December.
